

June/July 2008

outdoor lighting

What's the magic of balmy evenings if you spend them inside? From low-tech lanterns to electrified pendants, here are our favorite nighttime luminaries.

photographs by David Tsay produced by Judy Kameon and Stephen Orr

Slung over a low tree branch, these electric mod-meets-Marrakech glass globes give off a powerful glow—like amped-up moonlight. (Note: They're actually indoor lamps rigged with outdoor plugs, so they need to come in when the party is over.) 10" and 12" "Globe" lanterns $79 AND $99 MOSAIK (323) 525-0337

STOOLS "Spinball" $170 each, lebello.com TRAY 22" lacquer $195 jonathanadler.com TEAPOT Ceramic $80 bauerpottery.com RUG (similar to shown) 8' x 10' jute "Flat Braided" $499 potterybarn.com